Hi!

If you could make any changes in your fundraising plan over the next year, what would it be?

There are few activities that will have more impact on the long-term sustainability of your organization than donor retention.

These are worksheets that I've been using with my clients to help focus in on communication and involvement strategies that are best suited for their supporters. By being proactive, versus reactive, you can build a stronger fund development strategy.

My favorite thing to do is to help nonprofit organizations grow a base of enthusiastic fans, volunteers and donors who will help spread your story, provide the right board members, and result in your community being impacted in a way that only you are uniquely qualified to do.

Looking forward to hearing how these worksheets help you!

Kind regards,
